

REBEKAH KISER

(843) 300-2687 rebekah.kiser@gmail.com
918 Carpenter St. Brunswick GA 31520

AREAS OF EXPERTISE

3D modeling, animation, simulation – experience building 3D models and animations using Autodesk 3DS Max, Maya, Google Sketchup, AutoCAD and game simulation engines including Unity 3D, Unreal, RealWorld, and Creo
Web development – build websites using Adobe Dreamweaver, HTML5, CSS, JavaScript, PHP, and jQuery as well as familiarity with content management systems including WordPress, Drupal, etc.; build interactive graphics and animations using Adobe Photoshop, Illustrator, Flash / Animate for web deployment eLearning development – CBT and WBT using Adobe Captivate, PTC Arbortext, and Flash / Animate
Video/audio editing - Premiere Pro, AfterEffects, Audacity and Audition
Geospatial visualization– integration of 3D models into ArcGIS, familiar with processing LIDAR data (BlueMarble) and translating XYZ coordinates into 3D models and mapping applications including ArcGIS and Google Earth.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Senior Multimedia Designer – InTec LLC, contractor for U.S. Marshals

Nov. 2015 – current • Glynco, GA

- Design multimedia eLearning courses for the U.S. Marshals Training Division Branch at the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center (FLETC)
- Develop, deploy support enhance, and maintain eLearning course modules by creating and editing images, photos, video, audio, animations and simulations
- Design, create, and produce training material, logos, branding packages for various programs, branches and divisions within the USMS as well as other projects within the DOJ as assigned, marketing materials and classroom presentation support material
- Work with curriculum developers, SMEs, and LMS administrators for eLearning and multimedia projects

Freelance Multimedia Designer

July 2012 – December 2014 • Charleston, SC

- Created 3D conceptual models for analysis of proposed and implemented engineering products; infographics, graphics and copy-righting for proposals for small business government / military contractors
- Built websites, designed logos, branding packages, 3d models for product creation

Computer Scientist IV – ImagineOne (subcontractor)

July 2012 – December 2014 • Charleston, SC

- Create multimedia solutions—including 3D models, animations, videos, and interactive graphics—for the government and military contracting industry as well as other science and engineering -based projects
- Develop instructional videos for integration into SPAWAR and ImagineOne's IETP designed for instruction on upgrades and resets to multiple variants of the Mine Resistant Ambush Protected (MRAP) vehicle

Technical Writer (multimedia eLearning development, 3D modeling) - Alutiiq

October 2009 – June 2012 • Charleston, SC

- Built interactive multimedia training courses on various electronic equipment systems from conceptual phase to delivery based on content from technical manuals for the Army and the National Guard Bureau (NGB)
- Spearheaded a geospatial visualization initiative, involving other subcontractors, oriented around the integration of GIS, LIDAR, 3D modeling, animation and simulation multimedia products to support existing Electronic Security System (ESS) and Anti-Terrorism Force Protection (ATFP) programs
- Assisted with business development by attending technology conferences, interfaced with existing and potential customers, gave presentations, represented and networked on behalf of Alutiiq

Multimedia / Communications Specialist - Saf-T-Net Inc.

Dec. 2007 – March 2009 • Raleigh, NC

- Was the public relations point of contact and spokeswoman for the company
- Wrote press releases, case studies, news releases and interfaced with all media

- Developed web and CD-ROM-based multimedia products that functioned as tools used for tradeshow, conferences, client meetings, etc. for marketing and sales purposes
- Assisted marketing director in redesigning and rebranding marketing material for a polished, consistent company image and implementation of search engine optimization (SEO) strategies to increase company visibility

Multimedia Consultant - Morphogenix

Sept. 2007 - Nov. 2007 - New York, NY

- Redesigned "Real Savvy Moms" website associated with the PBS television series and developed multimedia content for delivery to its worldwide audience
- Helped refine company image with clean, sophisticated graphics as well as more efficient code and backend configuration for the website
- Developed weekly interactive newsletter incorporating videos and other multimedia material
- Storyboarded advertisements and commercials to be aired on PBS
- Developed and executed marketing and public relations campaigns

Computer Based Training Developer - Global Knowledge

Oct. 2006 - Sept. 2007 - Cary, NC

- Developed custom e-Learning courses for Microsoft, Cisco, Sara Lee, New York Stock Exchange, Kraft, Disney, Ortho McNeil, and Home Depot, from initial conceptual / proposal stage to delivery
- evaluated training needs and created 2D and 3D graphics, animations, simulations, video and audio content; wrote HTML, XML, ActionScript, Javascript, CSS and employed SCORM standards for proper functionality of custom training courses

Graphic Designer and Marketing Consultant - Media Powers LLC

Sept. 2006 - Sept. 2007 - Raleigh, NC and U.S. Naval Station Rota, Spain

- produced print, web and interactive design products and developed customized marketing campaigns to enhance the visibility, branding and overall image for small businesses

Editor / Webmaster – Public Affairs Dept., U.S. Navy

August 2002 - Sept. 2006 - U.S. Naval Station Rota, Spain

- determined all visual and written editorial content for weekly newspaper (Rota Coastline)
- assigned articles, photo shoots, etc. to Naval personnel; oversaw / managed deadlines
- redesigned and managed the U.S. Naval Station Rota website, www.navsta.rota.navy.mil; collaborated with Fleet Information Warfare Center (FIWC) to ensure DoD standards were met
- created digital illustrations, designed newspaper layout, wrote articles, took photos, and developed other editorial content for naval station newspaper and website

Graphic Designer – Morale Welfare & Recreation (MWR), U.S. Navy

March 2001 - Aug. 2002 - U.S. Naval Station Rota, Spain

- produced print and web graphics as well as other multimedia presentations print, web and multimedia products (posters, flyers, brochures, banners, menus, T-shirt designs, web ads, illustrations, videos and multimedia presentations) to advertise MWR's recreational programs

EDUCATION

Sessions Online School of Design - New York, NY

June 2016 - current

- vocational certificate in advanced web design and concentration in 3D modeling / game development

North Carolina State University - Raleigh, NC

Aug. 2000 - Dec. 2001, Jan. - May 2006

- Bachelor's Degree in Visual Arts Applications; graduated magna cum laude
- some post-graduate study in 3D modeling, animation and interactive multimedia

University of North Carolina - Chapel Hill, NC

Aug. 1998 - Dec. 1999

- studied journalism and mass communications with concentration in graphic design